Dear Parent / Carer

Industrial Action - Wednesday 30th November 2011

Further to my recent letter regarding potential industrial action, I am writing to confirm that Felpham Community College will be closed to all students in years 7 - 11 on Wednesday 30th November. (The school will be open for 6th form students who may use the facilities for private study).

I have made every effort to try and keep the school open but this has not been possible. The principle reason for closure to students is my consideration of health and safety. Even a partial opening for lower school students presents considerable difficulties as I have only a relatively small number of staff at my disposal. National legislation relating to teachers' pay and conditions also make it extremely difficult to organise any meaningful 'cover' provision.

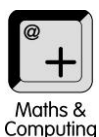

As is my duty, I have liaised with senior members of my Governing Body and appraised them of the situation. Under the circumstances noted above, the decision for closure has their support.

Listed below are links to websites with suitable work for students across all subjects.

I apologise for the disruption and frustration that the closure presents to parents and carers and reiterate my hope that all parties involved in the dispute can resolve their differences as speedily as possible. I also hope that early notification of my decision helps you to plan effectively for the day.

Yours sincerely

Mark Anstiss
